

Daily Prayer Thursday 2nd April

We are returning to our Care for Creation theme today.

In a week where we have seen goats taking over villages as there are less humans out and about I wonder if you have noticed any to wild life around you?

At St Mary's there seem to be less seagulls around and when we stop to reflect in the morning we hear birdsong from other species.

Madron is always a haven for wildlife! We often see birds of prey swooping over the field and when you are quiet there the air is full of birdsong!

Dear Lord

Thank you for the wonders of the sky!

May we all work together to ensure the air is protected rather than polluted.

Amen

Today's challenge

How many birds do you know?

What birds come to your yard or garden?

What are the two birds in the pictures?

The top ones live under the eaves at St Mary's!

An Baya

Together we can make a difference.
